Jackson & Blanc Los Angeles is purchased by the Linc Group (TLG)

Los Angeles, Calif. – July 2, 2007 - Linc Network, LLC's parent company, The Linc Group (TLG), has purchased the Jackson & Blanc franchise in Irwindale, Calif. The acquisition maintains the Linc Service® Network's strong presence in the Los Angeles market by combining the Irwindale franchise with TLG's company-owned store (COS) in Irvine – Linc Mechanical, LLC. A Linc Service® Contractor since 1998, Jackson and Blanc has been serving the heating and air conditioning needs of its Southern California customers for more than 75 years. We're excited that they will remain a part of the Linc® family!

Jackson & Blanc: Now celebrating its 75th year in business, Jackson & Blanc is Southern California's pre-eminent mechanical systems specialist and have been serving the heating and air conditioning needs of San Diego specifically since 1931. What differentiates Jackson & Blanc from others in the industry is strong leadership in the design/build category and a 'single source philosophy' whereby they remain the sole contact for all of their customers needs. Jackson & Blanc's customer list varies among commercial, industrial and institutional markets. They also specialize in retrofitting existing systems, preventative maintenance programs and service and repair for HVAC and other mechanical systems.
